Greetings Mid-Atlantic Chapter members!

Please allow me to introduce you to the 2018-2019 Mid-Atlantic Chapter Board of Directors:

I am Janeen McLean, your newly-installed Chapter President; and I have the distinct pleasure of serving alongside Jean Moriarity, Vice-President, Erin Burke, Secretary, Alicia McKinney, Treasurer, and Karen Pollitt, Regional Director. I want to particularly recognize and extend a special thank you to our outgoing president, Mark Miller, for his dedicated leadership and innovative thinking, and for his continuing work on the Board as Past President. On behalf of the entire Mid-Atlantic Chapter Board of Directors, I enthusiastically welcome all of you to a new year of opportunities and possibilities with AICP!

Thinking back to the 31st Annual Conference held just a few weeks ago in Nashville, Tennessee, I still feel a keen sense of excitement and pride at seeing all of those bright red Mid-Atlantic lanyards donned by over 60% of our Chapter membership, including 27 new members in attendance! Not only did we have major Chapter representation at conference, we also had the high honor of witnessing one of our own – Rona Finkelstein – installed as the National President of AICP! But wait...there's more! You should also know that numerous Mid-Atlantic Chapter alums have served in National leadership positions and that many are past recipients of the prestigious Lennon Award and President's Award. As you can see, the Mid-Atlantic Chapter has a rich history of leadership within the AICP. My question for you is... what path will you take on your AICP leadership journey?

We encourage you to begin your journey by sharing your time and talents in service of one or more of several Chapter committees charged with providing high-quality educational programs and networking opportunities to Mid-Atlantic Chapter members. Your level of engagement is tailored to your needs – simply sharing an idea during a committee teleconference call or an offer to draft or edit a document is valued participation! So, take a look and let us know which of the following committees is a good fit for you?

Event Planning Committee

(Jean Moriarity, Chair / Alicia McKinney, Co-Chair)

The Event Planning Committee is the Chapter's foundation. It is comprised of two mission-critical subcommittees: E-Day Planning and Logistics. Creativity and line-of-business expertise are valued skills for developing and coordinating educational content for E-Day sessions. Strong organizational skills, experience with excel spreadsheets and mail-merge, and a flair for designing marketing materials are key elements for managing E-Day logistics.

Membership Committee

(Erin Burke, Chair)

The Membership Committee is the Chapter's life-line. This committee crafts written communications to welcome new and returning Chapter members, and to ensure that all members are familiar with the value-added resources and educational content that AICP provides, both locally and nationally.

Website/Publications Committee

(Janeen McLean, Chair)

The Website/Publications Committee is the Chapter's public image. Working directly with the National Website Committee, this committee creates and maintains website content promoting the Chapter and its members, events and activities. All who are social media savvy or e-knowledgeable are encouraged to get "linked-into" the Website/Publications Committee!

Regulator Committee

(Mark Miller, Chair)

The Regulator Committee is the Chapter's regulatory liaison. This committee develops and maintains a network of business relationships with insurance regulators throughout the Mid-Atlantic region, and directly assists the Event Planning Committee with coordinating E-Day speakers and identifying opportunities for hosting insurance department business meetings. Utilize your DOI connections to connect with the Mid-Atlantic Chapter Regulator Committee.

Business Partner Committee

(Karen Pollitt, Chair)

The Business Partner Committee is the Chapter's industry liaison. This committee develops and maintains a network of business relationships with third-party vendors who offer products and services for the insurance community. The committee directly assists the Event Planning Committee with coordinating subject matter experts for E-Day sessions, identifying sponsor/host webinar opportunities and soliciting financial support for Chapter activities.

One final note: I am confident that you will find the time commitment – whether you're able to give a little or a lot – is minimal compared to the personal and professional rewards of volunteering and engaging with other insurance compliance professionals. If any of the committee descriptions spark even the slightest interest, I encourage you to reach out to me or the committee chair (simply click on the name for email link), and allow us to help turn that spark into the flame that lights the path of your leadership journey with AICP!

With warm regards,

Janeen
